SCORPIO

The scorpion, which is one of the most splendid constellations of our sky, brings us the promise that all that has ever been foreseen will sooner or later be fulfilled. But the magnificence and the splendour always manifest in the most unexpected way or moment: the hour of god.

All that is asked of us is to have faith

faith in ourselves, in our destiny, and in the help which the universe around us constantly offers. This basic faith which fights for God while knowledge is withheld is the secret certitude in our inmost heart that, come what may, the glory we have glimpsed will one day be our home.

The high gods look on man and watch and choose Today's impossibles for the future's base.^[1]
